The Hills Youth and Family Services

Woodland Hills | Cambia Hills | Neighborhood Youth Services

A New Corporate Name

Woodland Hills changed its name - sort of.

Woodland Hills, Cambia Hills, and Neighborhood Youth Services were all programs of the same 501(c)(3) corporation, St. James Home of Duluth, Inc., that was created to serve at-risk children and youth throughout the state. That corporate name, St. James Home, has changed to The Hills Youth and Family Services. Learn More.

Youth Photography

Thanks to a grant received by our Chaplain, we were able to purchase cameras and our youth are working with the Duluth Camera Club to learn basic photography skills.

A youth art show is planned this fall during our Harvest Fest.

Motivational Interviewing

We know that the success of our clients come from having our staff trained in best practices. And that is why we believe in offering on-going training for our staff.

Over 20 staff participated in a two-day session on motivational interview training where they learned how to help elicit change. Learn more.

Why the Hills?

We see ourselves as a treatment center, not a correctional facility - all of our youth have access to mental health therapists. We focus on trauma repair, building healthy relationships and social development.

Located in Duluth, MN on a 140 acres with a small hobby farm, gardens and access to trails. Learn more.
